Wildlife RESCUE

STORIES OF SURVIVAL

Wildlife Rescue | New Exhibition

Until September 4

Witness the dedicated efforts of caretakers who successfully raise and release young elephants and orangutans to the wild. Experiment with puppets, costumes and other techniques used to teach young animals essential survival skills. Take a simulated flight on an ultra-light aeroplane to guide young whooping cranes along their first migratory route. Learn the methods used to milk the Lake Sturgeon in order to breed and reintroduce the fish into the Great Lakes. Step into the rescue efforts with people who dedicate their lives to Wildlife Rescue!

Inventorium | New Experience

June 16, 2017 – January 7, 2018

This dynamic space is actively driven by YOU. Be inspired by experts, artists, researchers, our staff, and the scientific process itself as you take part in creative activities. Build a circuit, take part in real-world research, wind packing tape into a beautiful (and climbable!) structure, contribute to collective artworks and more. Come and collaborate to shape this new space as it evolves.
