

CONDITIONAL ADMISSION

Even if you don't meet your English proficiency requirements, you can still apply and be conditionally admitted to most of our programs.

Applicants will need to attend Seneca College's English Language Institute (ELI) followed by the professional program of their choice. All applicants will be tested upon arrival and placed in the appropriate level of the ELI in order to improve their proficiency. Students in the upper levels of the ELI may register for a few courses from their diploma or degree programs while still attending the ELI. For more information about conditional admission and our English Language Institute, please visit our website at: www.studyatseneca.ca
